DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. The claims are generally narrative and indefinite, failing to conform to current U.S. practice. They appear to be a literal translation into English from a foreign document and are replete with grammatical and idiomatic errors.

An examination of this application reveals that applicant is unfamiliar with patent prosecution procedure. While an inventor may prosecute the application, lack of skill in this field usually acts as a liability in affording the maximum protection for the invention disclosed.

Applicant is advised to secure the services of a registered patent attorney or agent to prosecute the application, since the value of a patent is largely dependent upon skilled preparation and prosecution. The Office cannot aid in selecting an attorney or agent.

Applicant is advised of the availability of the publication "Attorneys and Agents Registered to Practice Before the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office." This publication is for sale by the Superintendent of Documents, U.S. Government Printing Office, Washington, D.C. 20402.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

1. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

Art Unit: 2834

Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the laws of nature, physical phenomena, and abstract ideas have been held not patentable. In Re Diamond v. Chakrabarty, 447 U.S. 303, 206 USPQ 193 (1980). The property of any induction motor to act as a generator is already discovered and covered by the laws of magnetism and electrodynamics.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claim 2 is also rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Fujita et al. (JP 04359691 A).

Fujita et al. disclose in Figure 1 invention as claimed: a multi-pole magnetic switch 6 routing to a process control module, thus allowing to detect the rotor position during the starting or low speed rotation.

The low rotation inherently occurs when the supply current to the motor is cut-off.

Prior Art

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
